Customised and efficient

You choose which solution you want to implement – cost-effective, modular and independent of technology and manufacturer standards and geographical requirements. RUAG ARANEA Communication Expert optimally connects a diverse range of armed forces and organisations securely in a user friendly way.

Rapid integration

RUAG ARANEA Communication Expert guarantees a quick and secure communication infrastructure with a self-sufficient power supply. By seamlessly integrating a wide-range of technologies and features, precise communication and data networks can be established across a highly localised area.

Leading expertise

Our full-IP-based communications solutions reflect the expertise we have acquired over many years in system integration and maintenance. We also provide training sessions on-site to quickly familiarise our partners, customers and users with the solution.
